Sms-LdP
Walaa frasas ke oni yusi oftem in sms (kurte telefon mesaja).

Komo yu sta?
Me sta hao. E yu?
Me sta buhao.
Me sta bu tro hao.
Wo yu es?
Me es she me (Me es pa dom)
Me es she gunsa.
Me es she amiga.
Me es in metro.
Me zai weiti yu.
Foni a me nau!
Foni a may dom!
Foni a may mobila!
Ob lu es she yu?
Ya.
Non.
Wen yu lai?
Yu lai-bu-lai?
Taim yok.
Me bu lai.
Me mangi sedey.
Me lai sun.
Me lai klok pet.
Me zai lai.
Me lai afte dwa ora.
Me lai tardem.
Kupi pan!
Ob yu he kupi pan?
Treba kupi pan ku?
Bu treba.
Pan haishi ye.
Mani yok.
Wen yu arivi?
Me haishi bu jan.
Wen yu departi?
Me departi sun.
Nu hev mita sedey aksham.
Lai ba!
Danke, me lai.
Danke, me bu mog lai.
Danke, amiga.
Nu bu vidi mutu longtaim.
Es taim fo miti.
Es gro-taim fo miti.
Yu mangi-bu-mangi manya?
Me bu mangi manya.

How are you?
I am fine. And you?
Bad.
Not too good.
Where are you?
I am at mine (I am at home).
I am at work.
I am at my friend's.
I am in subway.
I am waiting for you.
Call me now!
Call to my home.
Call to my mobile phone!
Is he at yours?
Yes.
No.
When are you coming?
Are you coming (or not)?
No time.
I won't come.
I am busy today.
I am coming soon.
I shall come at 5.
I am coming.
I shall come in two hours.
I shall come late.
Buy bread!
Have you bought bread?
Should one buy bread?
One should not.
We have some bread yet.
I have no money.
When do you arrive?
I don't know yet.
When do you leave?
I am leaving soon.
We have a meeting tonight.
Come!
Thank you, I'll come.
Thank you, I can not come.
Thank you, my friend.
We have not seen each other for a long time.
It is time to meet.
It is high time to meet.
Are you busy tomorrow?
I am not busy tomorrow.
Nu miti ba manya.
Shwo namastee a oli!
Hao fortuna!
Swasti!
Me lubi yu.

Let us meet tomorrow.
Say hello to everybody!
Good luck!
All the very best! Good luck! May God help you!
I love you.

Walaa un syao kolekta de LdP-skribi-ney telefon mesaja de pluri jen.

— Privet! Komo yu sta?
— Privet-ki! Me sta hao. Telefon mani shao! Me ve skribi a yu e-leta.
— Hao. Swasti!
— Hi! How are you?
— Hi! I am fine. I'm running out of phone money! I shall write an e-letter to you.
— OK. All the best!

— Hey, wo es yu? Yu lai-bu-lai?
— Me ve bi she yu afte shi minuta.
— Zai weiti.
— Hey, where are you? Are you coming?
— I'll be at yours in 10 minutes.
— I am waiting.

— Swasti! Ob yu mog sendi a me nove lexikon?
— Hao, bat sol manya. Me gro-mangi sedey.
— Hi! Can you send me the new dictionary?
— OK, but only tomorrow. I am extremely busy today.

— Me he jawabi a oli yur leta. Un-ney parta de lernikursa es tayar.
— Hao! Ob yu he sendi it a me?
— Ya, kun kelke proposa om gramatika.
— I have answered to all your letters. The first part of the learning course is ready.
— Good! Have you sent it to me?
— Yes, along with some propositions about grammar.
— Excellent, I'll take a look tomorrow. Good luck to you!

— Afsos ke sin me, me toshi yao bota-safari. Lai-ves nu safari pa hunta, hao ku?
— Me yus he safari on bota sirkum Neva. Zai go a dom, pluvi gro, gro. Gro-pluvagron!
— How are you? I am in the train, I have nothing to do. The weather is dull, it drizzles from time to time. Through the window I can see only the endless forest running back. Rare poor buildings. A sad view.
— It's a pity that without me, I'd also like to have a boat-trip. Next time we'll take it together, OK?
— OK. I hope that then the weather will be less rainy. The water is everywhere, also in may boots. It's an ocean around. I see such a rain for the first time!
— Kway, kway a dom-ki! Ob yu hev ambrela?
— Ya, bat it bu helpi. Me es ga mokre. Sun me mus swimi.
— Swimi ba kway! In dom pi ba garme chay tuy ke yu lai, se helpi fo mah swa warme.
— Me es pa dom. Me es gro-mokre.
— E me zai lai a may janmaurba. Walaa it.
Turan — surya! It brili nichen, sub badal. Sta hao. Swasti!
— Zai pi chay. Swasti!
— Home, quickly home! Do you have an umbrella?
— Yes, but it doesn't help. I am completely wet. Soon I'll have to swim.
— Swim quickly! When you are home, drink hot tea immediately, it helps to get warm.
— I am home. I am wet to the bones.
— And I am arriving in my native town. Here it is. Suddenly — the sun! It shines below, beneath clouds. Feels good. All the very best to you!
— I am drinking tea. All the best!